

Summer Ideas for Parents

- Read to or with your child daily.
- Game Night! Turn off all electronics and pull out a game to play (great time for talking/developing oral language skills) and just plain FUN! <http://www.moneycrashers.com/family-game-night-ideas-board-games/>
- Listen to books on disc while in the car or at home (many times, libraries have these available for check out.)
- Play word games while in the car, walking, swimming, swinging, etc. (ideas listed on back of this sheet).
- Create a word jar by writing down and talking about new words you discover together over the summer.
- Going on a road trip? <https://www.grammarly.com/blog/5-word-related-car-games-for-your-next-road-trip/?AT3389=1>
- Ask your local library about summer reading programs.
- Create/start a neighborhood/family book club – students could choose the books to be read and discussed.
- Check with your school about summer tutoring options.
- Check about possible summer programming at your school.
